

Level 9 Practical Remote Exam Solutions

Level 9 Practical Exam candidates will present their examination using a combination of YouTube recordings & Zoom as follows:

- o Repertoire and Etudes will be submitted as YouTube recordings*
- o Technical Tests, Ear Tests, and Sight Reading will be conducted on Zoom

The process of this examination is outlined below:

1. Students are required to create a YouTube account and have their YouTube account verified in order to submit their recording to the RCM Certificate Program.
2. Students will record their YouTube videos prior to completing for their exam. Please review this document for information regarding using YouTube for your examination.
3. For the Zoom portion of the exam, once your exam has been scheduled you can find your program form in your MyRCM account.
4. Students will add their YouTube channel/video information in their program form.
5. Students will need to download Zoom and prepare their space for the Zoom portion of the Remote Exam. This document provide a suggested outline on how to set up your device and room when preparing for your remote exam.

* Level 9 YouTube Video Requirements: Brass & Woodwinds Candidates

To reflect the expectations of an in-person examination experience, Level 9 candidates have been instructed to record their Repertoire and Etudes as one continuous performance, and to submit one complete video. For brass & woodwinds examinations, in view of concerns related to stamina and embouchure, candidates may record their exam programs in several successive sessions.
